Roasted and Trampled to Death.

During the performance of "The Romany Rye" in the theatre at Exeter, London, last night, the building was discovered to be on DOOR and WINDOW FRAMES, MOLDINGS, &c. fire. The audience became panic stricken and made a frantic rush for the exits, in spite of the heroic efforts of the attaches to reassure them and induce them to go out quietly. The occupants of the pit engaged in an awful struggle for egress in the nar-row aisies. Men and women were deliberntely knocked down and trampled upon by those behind them, and hundreds of persons were almost entirely denuded in the terrible fight for life. The pit was finally cleared, but a large number of the occupants of that portion of the house were seriously injured and presented a horrible spectacle as they reached the streets. The occupants of the gallery did not fare so well. one very narrow exit from the upper tier, involving the descent of a rather long flight of stairs, and here an almost indescribable scene of terror and slaughter ensued. The rush for the stairs was terrific, and in a mo ment the entire passageway was blocked, those persons who kept their feet being supported by a solid mass of prostrate humanity. The shricks, groans, and curses of the imprisoned and the trampled, the wounded and the dying, were perfectly heartrending, but there was no relief, and in a moment scores of men and women were either suffo-cated or killed by being trodden upon. A lire escape was at last brought to one of the gallery windows, and through this medium the pressure was relieved and a great many persons were lowered to the street. As soon as the house had been cleared of the living, the work of removing the dead was begun, and sixty bodies were taken out by means of the fire escape. The fire started in the flies during the fourth act of the play. When the flames were discovered a drop scene was lowered to prevent the cur-rent of air from increasing the blaze. After this was done the actors and stage hands threw open a door to make their escape when the draft caused the flames to burst through the drop scene and ignite the wood-work of the gallery. The flames overtook the hindmost of the unfortunate people, who were wedged in the corridor and stair way, and literally roasted them alive. There was no escape for them, the fire being at their backs and a compact, immovable mass of human beings in front. The fire-men reached the upper windows and took out all of the people they could find, but most of them were dead and many others died soon after they were taken out. The surgeons in the hospitals revived a few per-sons who were thought to be dead from sufnearly 100 corpses lay in rows on the floor, and these did not comprise the total number of the dead, as a great many bodies were burned to ashes in the theater. Some of the dead were simply suffocated, and not at all mutilated or burned. The occupants of the dress circle escaped without injury, the injured and dead being confined to the pit and the upper circles. The building was One hundred and thirty bodies have been taken out of the theater thus far. Of these one hundred were men and boys and thirty women.

> MR. GARRETT'S SUCCESSOR .- The New York correspondent of the Baltimore American writes:

> "The question as to who shall succeed President Robert Garrett is settled. The man fixed upon as possessing all the re-quirements for the place is Mr. Samuel Spencer, the present first vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio road. Not only did his ability as a manager and his work in connection with the road commend him, but when he conducted the negotiations which ended in the contract, the syndicate became so thoroughly impressed with his qualifications that it took only a short time for them to agree upon him as Mr. Garrett's succes-They recognized the fact that he will do as much as any man can do to maintain its thorough independence, while steering it > clear of entangling competitions." The correspondent says he states these facts from the most authoritative sources. "The syndicate," he says, "see very clearly that the value of the property depends upon a policy that will strictly maintain the road's autonomy and enable it to foster all its local and general interests. Mr. Samuel Spencer is a man who understands the situation clearly, and with the syndicate's full co operation and support, the road will more than realize the full expectations of its friends. It may also be stated that the choice of Mr. Spencer is with Mr. Garrett's full concurrence and approval.'

The electric light continues to advance as a de fensive implement of war, the German authorities having recently added a new machine to their military equipment. It is a portable com-bination of a steam engine, dynamo and a large reflector, which will be used for the purposes of projecting a strong light in front of important works, so as to guard against surprise.

The Morning Dress.

It is said that a lady's standing in society can easily be determined by her dress at the breakfast-table; an expensive, showy costume indicating that the wearer has not yet learned the proprieties. But no one need be afraid of being called "shoddy" if her loveliness is as apparent by daylight as at the hops. Perfect beauty is never the attendant of disease; above all, of those disease peculiar to women, and which find a

THE GOLD MINING COMPANY (location, Music Mountains, A. T.) is as sound a mining enterprise as was ever placed on the market, and its possibilities have never been exceeded. Every share should double in value within a year, and they may quadruple, as they are based on property that would ordinarily have been capitalized ten (10) times as great on account of its known richness and promise.

The shares are made small so that any one can invest. Subscriptions for five shares are as welcome as those for hundreds.

Every dollar of earnings will go to the stockholders in dividends, as there is nothing else that they can be used for.

A Wisewell mill, capacity 20 tons per day, with powerful machinery, has been purchased and will be on the ground ready for erection at the mine within the next thirty days.

The solid basis upon which the company is founded and the practical proofs of the richness of the mine have already secured the confidence of the public, and the stock has steadily advanced in selling value. Within the last few days bona fide sales have been made AT PAR.

There is no better stock on the market for a permanent investment. For full information in regard to this Mine apply to the
